Goode Asks Miss Perkins
To Stop Further Removals
Until Labor Board
Acts on Strike.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 29.—(AP) Textile strikers facing eviction from mill-owned houses clashed with national guardsmen in a rough-and-tumble fight here today, resulting in injury to some of the strikers, 21 of whom were arrested by the military.

Fists, stones, sticks and rifle butts were wielded in the melee. Four women were among the 21 held prisoner by national guardsmen, but they were not reported injured.

Sixteen men arrested here were taken to Atlanta and placed in a military detention camp at Fort McPherson late tonight. Originally, it was planned to place the prisoners in the Atlanta armory but it was later decided to use the national guard rifle range quarters which previously have been pressed into service to house prisoners taken in strike disorders by the guardsmen. All of the women were left here.

Urge Discontinuance.

Flare-up of trouble here brought a telegram to Secretary of Labor Perkins in Washington from George Goode, southern representative of the American Federation of Labor in Atlanta, who urged that the evictions be discontinued until after the National Labor Relations Board renders its decision in a wage-war dispute between employees of the Callaway textile mills and the United Textile Guild
the decision was expected May 1.

His telegram asked that "this action be taken in the name of humanity and to forestall possible bloodshed in a most tense situation."

The fight started after a process server went into a house owned by the Callaway mills to serve an eviction notice. It was offered as to what happened after that.

Admiral General Lindley Camp, of the national guard, said about 25 or 30 strikers in the house pitched the process server, whom Camp identified as Robert Carter, into the street, and

$25 Registration Fee For Trucks Is Upheld

The supreme court of the United States yesterday upheld a registration fee of $25 for each truck used in transportation activities in the state, regardless of whether or not business is transacted in the state by the company owning the trucks.

The Aero-Mayhew Transic Company, of Indianapolis, contested the registration fee, claiming that its trucks passed through Georgia but did not do business in the state. The company attacked the law on the ground that in exempting trucks handling farm products it made the statute unconstitutional but the supreme court in its decision ruled that the general assembly could exempt farm vehicles from the fee if so desired.

DANCE HALL IS ROBBED OF $227 AND CLOTHING

Burglars entered the Hurst Mill Dance Hall, 394 1/2 Peachtree Street, Sunday night and stole $227 in currency and clothing valued at $15, it was reported yesterday to police by Ed Hurst, the owner.

A sneak-thief who removed molding and unfastened a locked window at the Citizens & Southern Bank building sometime during the week-end obtained $85 and gold from the office of J. W. Lowry, cashier, and desk set and fountain pens from the office of Grover Middlebrooks, attorney, it was reported yesterday.

A burglar, who apparently had been locked in the building at closing time last night robbed a confectionery store at 238 Mitchell Street, S. W., of $38.28 containing two cash registers, and a quantity of cigarette cases.

The Seneca Wire and Manufacturing Company, 120 Walker street, S. W., was entered by a thief who cut out a screen and made his way into the building through a trap door in the roof. He ripped open a strong box which contained stocks and bonds, but finding no currency, threw away the box and its contents in the rear. The loot was recovered.

T. C. Erwin, Veteran Banker, Given 77 Roses on Birthday

There were 77 red roses yesterday on the desk of Thomas C. Erwin, vice president and trust officer of the Citizens and Southern National bank, one rose for each year of his active life, a tribute from the officers and employes of the institution to the man who holds the record for the longest continuous banking service of any Atlanta.

The huge basket of roses was the only distinguishing mark in an otherwise routine working day, and Mr. Erwin vigorously denied that he felt any special favoritism.

He was born in Chambers County, Alabama, on April 29, 1858. Mr. Erwin's first connection here was with the private banking firm of W. M. and R. Lowry as a bookkeeper in 1881. In 1896 he secured a national bank charter and in association with Frank Hawkins and Joseph A. McCord formed the Third National bank.

In September, 1919, the Third National bank was purchased by the Citizens and Southern National bank and became the Atlanta office of the institution. At that time Mr. Erwin was elected to the position he now fills.

CANADA ALARMED BY U.S. ARMY PLAN

Records on 'Camouflaged' Border Fortress Demanded by Agent.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—Canada, both interested and concerned at proposals to establish a "camouflaged" military air base near her border, today asked the State Department for any public data on such armament.

Promptly, State Department officials promised to comply with the request.

The incident began with publication of testimony before the house military committee by Brigadier General Charles E. Kilbourne, assistant chief of staff in charge of air armament. He said that in view of the traditional undefended border between the United States and Canada, it would be "unfortunate" to establish a powerful air base in the Great Lakes region.

"You will notice No. 7 in my bill is 'camouflaged,'" Kilbourne said. "It is called 'intermediate' stations for transcontinental flights, but it means the same thing."

Humorous, counsel of the Canadian delegation, went to the State Department after reading this and requested "whatever documents have been given to the press and formed the basis of press stories."

He emphasized that he had asked for no documents or data considered secret or confidential.

Both State and War Department officials declined any comment on the testimony, which included a statement by Brigadier General F. E. Andrews, commander of the general headquarters air force, that it might be necessary in an emergency to seize British and French islands off the American coast.

Since his testimony was given Kilbourne has been transferred to command the harbor defenses of Manila Bay in the Philippines.

For his development of the Herbert Hoover rose, L. B. Coddington, noted rosarian of Murray Hill, N. J., last night was awarded the American Rose Society gold medal of achievement at a banquet tendered members of the national society, which is meeting here, by the Georgia Rose Society, of Biltmore, N. C. The medal, which is awarded only once in five years, is the highest award of the national society. The presentation was made by Mrs. Hally Bradley Hampton, district secretary of the American Rose Society at Fort Worth, and a member of the national committee of awards.

The presentation was the high point of yesterday's session of the national association and followed a luncheon entertainment, also at the Biltmore.

Croppus Is Toastmaster: J. D. Crump, of Macon, is president and was toastmaster at the banquet. Mrs. Walter Lash, of Atlanta, is vice president of the state society and district secretary of the national society. The Silver Moon and pink Pillar roses were featured in the table decorations of the luncheon and banquet by Madammes John L. Harper, Arthur Tufts and Mrs. James H. Porter, at Biltmore. Here a barbecue will be served and later a visit made to "Rockhill" cemetery to see old-fashioned roses. This will bring to an official close the two-day convention.

Speakers at the Banquet:

Speakers at the banquet were Rodney Cross, of Atlanta, whose subject was "Flora and Fauna"; George C. Dr. Whitman Cross, of Chester, Chas., Md., who chose "Plans and Aims for a National Rosarium" and Dr. J. H. Nicolas, of New York, who made an address on "The Rose Is Regional." "The New Varieties of Roses Are Created." A pilgrimage to rose gardens followed on yesterday's program after luncheon.

This Morning: This morning visitors and hosts will leave the Biltmore at 8 o'clock and go to Floweraces, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hastings at Lovelock to view the wonderful display of climbing roses.

From there the group will go to the Silver Moon Inn, where Mr. and Mrs. James H. Porter, at Biltmore. Here a barbecue will be served and later a visit made to "Rockhill" cemetery to see old-fashioned roses. This will bring to an official close the two-day convention.

Cash Proviso Sought

For Harrison Measure

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(AP)—With a vote on the bonus issue nearing, veterans yesterday drafted amendments to the Harrison compromise bill that would make it virtually a cash payment measure.

They will be offered if the Patman and Vinson cash bonus bills are rejected as they were by the Senate.

With a presidential veto assured for either the Patman or Vinson measures, the bonus forces apparently intend to concentrate on liberalizing the Harrison bill, proponents of which say it would be signed by President Roosevelt.

Consequently, the amendments would, as that the veterans demand, be limited to a cash payment of $180, as under the present draft of the Harrison bill, would receive about $500. Those who have not borrowed on their certificates would get full cash payment of $1,000.

In addition to demanding action against Japanese imports and the cotton processing tax, Brann urged the cabinet committee to work out a new basis of wage differentials and to study methods of controlling overproduction.

Before Audience at Church Here

Virgil Fox, 22-year-old organist who is listed among America's greatest, played the most brilliant recital that reviewer has heard in this city yet at night at the First Baptist church. A large audience greeted each number with unlimited enthusiasm.

Virgil Fox coupled a brilliant virtuosity with a keen musicianship and a desire to provide a program of performance that was nothing short of marvelous. His technique is as fleet and as versatile as a virtuous pianist, and still he has the proper "organ touch." His choice of stops and combinations was ever interesting and artistic. His powers of keyboard and pipe organ were never better than his imagination. His complete control of the magnificent Pilcher organ at all times quickened admiration. And he played the entire concert of most difficult organ literature from memory, an almost unheard-of feat among organists.

His pedal technique would make a concert worthy in itself. One of the most thrilling moments of the program was the "Perpetuum Mobile," an étude for pedals alone, by Middelschule. The tremendous speed

F. D. R. INDORSED BY GEORGIA ELKS

Unanimous Rising Vote
Authorizes Confidence
Message to President.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—The Georgia Elks' Association today sent a telegram to President Roosevelt saying that "the Elks of Georgia are solidly behind you."

The telegram, which the association came at its annual convention here today, and followed recent criticisms of the president by Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia. The telegram was authorized by a rising, unanimous vote.

Walter E. Lee, of Waycross, was elected president of the association, succeeded H. B. Roberts, of Albany.

Other officers elected were the following vice presidents: Charles Bruce, Atlanta, district one; Jack Walton, Columbus, two; W. F. Krute, Macon, three; Albert Jernigan, Albany, four; George W. Upchurch, Gadsden, five; and George W. Crawford, Fitzgerald, six. R. E. Lee Reynolds, of Atlanta, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

J. Bush, of Athens, retiring vice president of district one, presented the convention a scroll, containing names of members, and also gave a cup for the annual golf tournament.

The Albany delegation took permanent possession of the Phil Maginnis cup last night by winning the degree team contest for the third time.

The convention delegates this afternoon had luncheon at Fort Benning and later inspected the 88,000 acre reservation. The also viewed the dress parade of the 29th infantry regiment. Colonel Reginald H. Kelley, of the department of experiment at Fort Benning, spoke at the morning session of the convention.

Tonight's program included a grand ball with the 11 o'clock toast given by Father Thomas A. Brennan, of the Albany Lodge, the state chapter. The association will adjourn its sessions at a business meeting tomorrow.

that the Reich already has built not only six submarines but a great new naval and seaplane base on the Island of Syrt in the North Sea.

It was stated, has been transformed into a second Heligoland, equipped with concrete and bombproof shelters for long-distance aircraft guns. It was said the closest secrecy was observed about the fortifications, with only reliable naval workers employed in construction.

Submarine construction was the most disturbing factor, however, with the disclosure by British naval experts that the 250-ton submarines Germany is said to be building are actually potent instruments of war, and that similar craft were employed in the blockading of British ports in the war.

Fall Subfusioneers Felt.

At first the British thought the French were too excited over the German air force expansion announced last month, according to competent commentators. The British took a far-off view of German armament, and the Americans took submarine construction to bring home the seriousness of Hitler's general program.

Speakers at the meeting included

Earlier, Green accompanied Governor Wilbur Cross, of Connecticut, to the White House for a discussion of the financial problems with President Roosevelt.

Cotton's major offensive against the processing tax and Japanese invasion of the American market was conducted before the president's special cabinet committee. Although Brann and his colleagues favored an open hearing, the cabinet committee, at the request of Secretaries Wallace and Perkins, excluded the press and sat in executive session.

Press is Gagged.

What transpired in the committee room at the department of commerce was reported by Ashley B. Sowell, a press relation agent attached to the department of commerce.

One quarter in touch with affairs at Berlin said it would be impossible to learn immediately whether Germany was planning 12 (as announced in Britain) or 100 submarines, because her arms program always has been kept carefully concealed.

Diplomatic circles also discussed reports that Germany's other naval plans, which include all types of ships, might possibly embrace some new "mystery ship," since complete and definite information has not been received here.

Germany will build or is building already a group of large submarines equal to the most powerful in the British fleet.

BERLIN ADMITS ORDERING A NUMBER OF SUB KEELS.

BERLIN, April 29.—(AP)—It was admitted on good authority today that orders for "a number of submarine keels" had been placed by the government with various German firms, but whether actual construction had begun was an open question.

The orders were said to have been placed at Kiel, Hamburg, Stettin and possibly Danzig. But whether orders had gone out to delay the start of construction until Anglo-German naval parleys have reached their conclusion could not be ascertained.

Official denials that construction was under way had given to foreign press which insisted, but official government news bureau has not carried such denials.

Whatever may be the truth concerning U-boat construction, there were indications that Germany is wooing Portugal leading to speculation as to whether Portugal or the Azores were being considered as possible submarine bases.

J. M. Goldsmith, Hale and Hearty, Looks Back on 97 Years of Life

James M. Goldsmith, familiar figure in Atlanta for more than three decades, recently celebrated the 97th year of his life, contented, Hale and healthy and looking forward to many more years of pleasant living.

Born at Hamburg, S. C., just across the state line from Augusta, Mr. Goldsmith was the eldest of seven brothers and today is the sole survivor of the seven.

For approximately 30 years he was clerk of Fulton superior court, retiring from that post about eight years ago. Prior to his service with the court he was a Fulton deputy sheriff for some 20 years, serving under Sheriff Neiman.

The 97th year of the association came at its annual convention here today, and followed recent criticisms of the president by Governor Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia. The telegram was authorized by a rising, unanimous vote.

Walter E. Lee, of Waycross, was elected president of the association, succeeded H. B. Roberts, of Albany.

A CALL FOR CO-OPERATION

In his address to the people of the country President Roosevelt emphasizes that the work-relief program and the legislative program recommended by him "contemplate the enrichment of our national life by a sound and rational ordering of its various elements and wise provisions for the protection of the weak against the strong."

"Never," he says, "since my inauguration have I felt so unmistakably the atmosphere of recovery."

The address calls for co-operation with his efforts to restore normal economic conditions and to create social security that will safeguard against repetition of the conditions of the past few years.

To that end the president has submitted a definite and far-reaching program.

He is entitled to the co-operation for which he so earnestly asks.

If he is to be not-shot, ambushed and bushwhacked he will be handicapped in his work of restoration.

During the past two years the country has been brought a long way on the road to recovery.

If the president makes good on his promise to restore normalcy, he will have rendered a greater service than any president since the Civil War.

If he does not, he will accept the responsibility, provided such failure as may come is not due to the retarding efforts of bushwhackers and malcontents. In that event, those who are throwing monkey-wrenches into the machinery of recovery will be held to account.

The president is the general in charge of the army arrayed against the forces of depression.

No army can be successful if disgruntled and dissatisfied subordinates assume the right to countermand or to flaunt the orders of the commanding general.

In time of war such men would be shot!

In peace public opinion is the reply.

Conditions are soundly and definitely better than they were when President Roosevelt was inaugurated.

Confidence and optimism are replacing despair and uncertainty.

The man who cannot now enlist in helping the president push his program for the return of prosperity, should at least keep silent.

THE HOUSING CONFERENCE

The conference on low-cost housing to be held in Atlanta Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the department of agriculture of Georgia Tech is of unusual significance in that it will bring together for the first time in any part of the country representatives of all four of the federal departments dealing with housing problems—
the Subsistence Homestead Corporation, the housing division of the PWA, the TVA and the Rural Rehabilitation Corporation.

The program has been arranged with the view of making the conference a complete symposium of the problems of low-cost housing, with a mutually beneficial exchange of information between the representatives of each of the governmental agencies.

Of outstanding importance will be the exhibits to be presented by the TVA, the Subsistence Homestead Corporation and the Warm Springs project of the local Rural Rehabilitation office. Included in the complete exhibit will be models of the University and Techwood projects in Atlanta. Added to these will be drawings, photographs and models of various housing projects planned by the several departments, forming probably the most complete exhibition on low-cost housing ever to be assembled.

It is interesting that Atlanta, where the first governmental housing project was gotten under way, will also have the first exhibit, of the nature of the one to be shown at the approaching conference.

Not only will all phases of the task faced by the housing agencies be fully discussed by leading authorities, but both sides of the question as to whether the projects are an advisable governmental activity will be presented.

Leading figures in the low-cost housing branches of the recovery program will come to Atlanta to speak at the conference, and these able and informed speakers will deal with the full scope of problems that have been overcome and are still to be solved.

Under the direction of Harold Bush-Brown, head of the department of architecture of Tech, careful preparation has been made for the conference and the entertainment of the prominent men who will attend it. It should prove an event of widespread interest and far-reaching importance.

THE U-BOAT THREAT

Even more threatening to the future peace of the world than Germany's determination to rebuild her army, is the revelation that Hitler's rearming program includes the construction of a fleet of the U-boats responsible for so large a degree of the horrors of the World War.

Wolves of the sea, they preyed on unarmed and helpless passenger and freight ships, making few attacks on the armed vessels of the nations at war with Germany.

The sinking of the Lusitania shocked the civilized world and from then until the end of the war constantly mounting thousands of men, women and children—non-combatants and groups bent on errands of mercy as well as armed forces—were sent to watery graves by the ruthless U-boat warfare carried on by Germany.

No greater lesson was taught by the World War than that the U-boat has no place, either in war or peace, and Germany is rigidly restricted from their manufacture by the treaty of Versailles.

During the war Germany built 811 U-boats in four years, requiring only seven months to construct a single boat, despite the shortage of men and material.

If the deadly U-boats should be produced in such volume under the conditions existing during the closing years of the war, production of larger boats could now be speeded up.

With large numbers of these assassins of the sea being turned out, and with their radius of action greatly increased, no vessel on the seven seas would be safe if Germany so willed.

It is not surprising that the British government is disturbed by the revelation of Hitler's plans to build a U-boat fleet to such a degree as to contemplate canceling the Anglo-German naval conversations scheduled for London the second week in May. The attacks of the German armies, battle fleet and air forces were successfully turned back by the British during the war, but the U-boats had brought England to the point of starvation just prior to the entry of the United States on the side of the allies.

England will lose her traditional first line of defense—the British channel—if confronted by a re-armed Germany with a great air force and a large fleet of U-boats. With such a prospect, it is to be expected that the British will present a firmer attitude toward Hitler's demand for armament increases.

The biggest egg laid in 1934 was a product of Athens, Ohio, thus upsetting the common supposition that it was Sinclair's epic plan.

The Townsend old-age plan neglects some of the sadder cases. It utterly overlooks the child film star who is washed up at the age of 7.

Mr. Garner is represented as saying that he enjoys wearing a dress suit. A vice president will stand for any publicity, if you spell his name right.

Huey says he will appeal to thinkers in his coming campaign for the presidency. He has the others.

Wales affects a blue shirt with morning clothes. It is always interesting to hear what the well-dressed locomotive engineer or prince will wear.

Vandenbarg, of Michigan, thinks the postoffice should be taken out of politics. How would the senator stand on eliminating the football from football?

Refugees

Herr Ernst Toller, the German playwright, who has been studying conditions among German refugees in France, has put forward proposals to lessen the desperate plight of the numerous emigres. His proposal has the support of the International League of the Rights of Man and is now being examined by the competent French authorities.

It is interesting that Atlanta, where the first governmental housing project was gotten under way, will also have the first exhibit, of the nature of the one to be shown at the approaching conference.

Not only will all phases of the task faced by the housing agencies be fully discussed by leading authorities, but both sides of the question as to whether the projects are an advisable governmental activity will be presented.

Leading figures in the low-cost housing branches of the recovery program will come to Atlanta to speak at the conference, and these able and informed speakers will deal with the full scope of problems that have been overcome and are still to be solved.

Under the direction of Harold Bush-Brown, head of the department of architecture of Tech, careful preparation has been made for the conference and the entertainment of the prominent men who will attend it. It should prove an event of widespread interest and far-reaching importance.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

BENEFICENCE. WASHINGTON, April 29.—The lowdown of the peculiar political antics of the Rev. Father Coughlin has been reported to the powers that be in Washington as follows:

The Coughlin third party idea is just fine talk. So long as President Roosevelt "shows a disposition to go along" with the Coughlin principles, there will be no fight on him. The reverend political doctor regards the president as being, at least, as satisfactory as anyone else who could be nominated. He is going into the organization of the larger states because he wants to crowd the president into adopting his program.

In fact, the silver-voiced father is being quoted on the inside here flatly as saying that he is not very keen on Mr. Roosevelt but probably will support him as the best available.

CAUTION. There will be no joining of the Coughlin and Long forces. The pater's pals are whispering that he is not anxious to get mixed up with the Louisiana whirlwind. Huey's program, in some respects, parallels that of the Detroit radio voice, but "is not so specific" (the words are authentic).

The secret of this angle seems to be that Coughlin's followers do not want Long, and the priest is too high-principled to use what his associates call "bad means" to his end.

This, of course, is at least partially based on the Coughlin suspicion that there is something wrong in Louisiana which may ultimately come out.

STEPPING. The Coughlin boys make no effort to conceal the fact that the padre is definitely stepping down now from the pulpit to straighten out the political situation. They say he realizes that radio speeches, after all, reach only a certain class of people who must be organized into a political force if they are to be used effectively.

His idea is to organize five groups of forgotten men—labor, farmers, veterans, professional people of the low-salary groups, small businessmen. He is going to hold series of meetings similar to the Michigan one. Ohio is next. He will then invade Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Missouri, Wisconsin and Minnesota. These states actually have been selected. There may be more later, depending on the outcome of these endeavors.

The object is to capture the populous states that have 50 per cent of the total presidential votes. Catch on?

NATIONALISM. Five big cotton men went to the White House about 40 days ago to protest to Mr. Roosevelt against the farm control program. They stressed particularly the big decline in cotton exports and possibly permanent loss of our foreign markets because other nations are planting more cotton. They argued that the cotton industry was facing permanent difficulty because 60 per cent of its production has been exported in the past.

The president is said to have left them with the idea that foreign trade was a thing of the past. Whether rightly or wrongly, they got the view that the president believed the United States would eventually have to reconcile itself to the prospect of living largely within itself.

Most foreign trade experts have come to that view, although they do not say so openly.

PROFIT. Few people realize that the ordinary budget of the government is balanced and today has a surplus of $216,000,000. The regular budget runs $3,241,000,000 for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30. Treasury authorities believe it will come out just about even. The present surplus will be taken up by the expenditure of $200,000,000 for the sinking fund to pay the interest on bonds.

Of course, this does not take into consideration the large sums being spent for emergency relief and business promotion.

PUZZLER. The forgotten man of the New Deal (ex-AAA'er Coughlin Frank), now of the RFC, is declining to be forgotten. He has raised on the inside the puzzling legal question of whether the RFC is the government. His idea apparently is that it is not. Hence, the RFC should try its own legal cases, instead of letting the Justice Department do it.

The matter is causing quite a row because there are about 2,000 cases pending against the RFC in district courts.

NOTES. On Mr. Roosevelt's desk is Charles A. Beard's new book, "The Open Door at Home," which advocates a policy of economic nationalism.

Coughlin will invite more members of congress to attend his next meeting. Those who attended the last included Senators Nye and Thomas (Oklahoma) and Representatives Lempke, Connally, Sweeney and O'Malley.

The anti-lynchers have been passing around word in the senate cloakrooms that the president has sent Senator Costigan privately a draft of an opinion by Attorney-General Cummings upholding the constitutionality of the Costigan bill.

The RFC will open a bank May 1 in the Virgin Islands to finance a revival of the islands' run trade and other industries, thereby putting the government into another business.

Only Chairman Biddle, of the NRA Labor Board, will understand the wise crack now current that "Richberg, in his NRA reorganization fight, is playing both ends against the Biddle."

The TVA has found a family in the Norris dam area which had a total cash income last year of $5, out of which $1.85 was saved.

The money came from the sale of eggs.

If He Doesn't Know the Gun Is Loaded, He Is Too Green To Monkey With Guns

By ROBERT QUILLER

A certain college professor who had liberal ideas frequently lectured his classes on the beauties and advantages of bolshevism.

The students cared little about red doctrines, or anything else except dances, sports and love-making, but they thought it great fun to oppose the established order approved by their elders, so they appointed a day to hold a red demonstration on the campus.

It wasn't a very dangerous demonstration. They merely marched and carried banners and made a lot of noise.

But, said Smokey, he had warned the police. And in the midst of the demonstration a cop appeared, armed with a club, and cracked 14 heads.

Then he arrested the professor who had taught the youngsters red doctrines.

The king of the land was also the judge, and next day the radical professor was brought before him for trial.

"The right of free speech includes the right of free thinking," said the professor.

"You talk," said the king, "like a darned fool. You get paid, don't you? You're a hired hand, aren't you? Well, the fact that you work for hire is proof that you are under contract to do the will of the one who hires you. You are free to teach what you wish on get out on the street and do it there; but while you eat another man's bread, you must sing his song."

"What is more, freedom must be the right of all—not of one class.

Free speech must be accompanied by free listening. Are your pupils free to walk out if they don't like what you are teaching? No; you would punish him. So you demand free speech, but you wish to back others into a corner and force them to listen."

Then the king turned to the cop and said: "What was this man's offense—the words he used or the effect of his words?"

GEORGIA REPEAL LAW WAS WRITTEN BY DRY

Griffin Says If Imperfections Exist, They Are the Fault of Prohibitionists.

S. Marvin Griffin, of Bainbridge, vice president of the Georgia Association for Local Option issued a statement here yesterday saying that if there are imperfections in the local option repeal law to be voted on by the Georgia legislature this afternoon, they are the work of a dry leader, Representative Clement E. Sutton, of Wilkes county.

In his statement, Griffin said that Judge Sutton wrote the bill which was presented to the legislature by Representatives Parker and Shiras, of Colquitt county and Bargeron, of Burkes county and which was finally enacted.

The Griffin statement follows:

"We earnestly know that among their own ranks the drys are faced with a most peculiar situation. The compromise bill which passed both houses of the Georgia assembly was written by a dry, and one active in their campaign against the repeal of Georgia's pure law. If there are imperfections in the proposal which will be submitted to the people in a statewide referendum on May 15, the fault lies with them and should not be laid at the doors of those interested in seeing Georgia succeed in quelling her nefarious liquor traffic." The bill was written by the Honorable C. E. Sutton, of Wilkes county who asserted at the time that he had the support of the people for their ratification May 15.

The Wilkes county representative was sincere in writing the bill, and if he thought it was good then, he evidently thinks that it is good now although he is speaking against it. He will pass the responsibility presents itself. I am not noticing out the gentleman from Wilkes county because he wrote the bill because I am convinced that it is the best control bill that could have passed both houses of the legislature. The gentleman who opposes the regulation and control of the worst evil that Georgia has ever experienced."

Brooks County Body Praises AAA Program

Senator Vaughn and Representative Dean, of Rockdale, Also Support AAA.

QUITMAN, Ga., April 29.—(P)—The Brooks county board of commissioners has adopted a resolution deplored and condemning "the attacks which have been and continue to be made upon the national recovery program."

The resolution said that through "beneficent legislation in the United States congress as a part of the recovery program of the present federal administration under the peerless leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt the farmers of the country, and more especially the cotton growers of the southern states, have been permitted to enjoy the opportunity created through the program to list cotton in the extent of receiving a higher price for their product."

The farmer, the resolution said, has under the Roosevelt program, been included "for the first time in the history of federal administration" in the "many and sundry movements tending to the economic condition of financial and social welfare of the nation."

Debates have ensued over the critics of agricultural endeavors and have brought renewed faith and hope and increased courage to those who till the soil."

Secretary Wallace was assured of "continued cooperation" and growth under the triple plan" and approval was voiced for the Bankhead cotton control act, which "provides a proceeding tax and reduced cotton production," and "all governmental agencies providing for the relief of the unemployed and all others in need of financial assistance."

ROCKDALE LEGISLATORS SUPPORT AAA PROGRAM

CONYERS, Ga., April 29.—(P)—State Senator C. R. Vaughn, of Conyers, and State Representative W. T. Davis, of this (Rockdale) county, have issued statements praising the cotton processing tax and deplored attacks on the present and the New Deal.

Senator Vaughn said the critics of our program and the New Deal evidently do not know the farmer and laborer as they claim. If they did, they would certainly praise the efforts of our administration in Washington.

He said, "Farmers of the south need the help of the government and the past is a complete proof of this."

Representative Davis said, "The processing tax and its products have been the salvation of the southern farmers, the tax being returned to him for acreage received. . . . I consider the attack on our president and secretary of agriculture unwarranted and ill-advised."

AAA PROGRAM ENDORSED BY PAULDING FARMERS

DALLAS, Ga., April 29.—(P)—A group of farmers has adopted a resolution expressing their desire to "go on record as co-operating with the national administration in its agricultural program. We favor the continuance of the features of the farm act. The resolution was as follows:

"We, the farmers of Paulding county in a public meeting held in Dallas, Ga., April 27, wish to go on record as co-operating with the national administration in its agricultural program. We favor the continuance of the features of the farm act. We know that we are benefiting by the various payments as paid us under the rental agreements and parity checks. As indicated by our vote of a few months ago, we are still nine to one for President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace." The resolution was signed by L. D. Camp, secretary.

DEMOCRATS LAUD REPORT OF F.D.R.

Republicans Plan Concerted Attack on New Deal and AAA at Meeting in Boston.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(P)—The national political picture became clearer today, with democrats generally manifesting encouragement over President Roosevelt's recovery report and republicans bent upon intensive efforts to shape their party's attack on the New Deal.

High in the day's developments were these:

Democratic congressional leaders cheered the president's address to the nation last night as "splendid," "very timely," "encouraging."

Republican chieftains differed, some regarding it as "favorably" impressionistic, while others claimed Mr. Roosevelt had "lost touch with 'American thought.'

Breaking into the capital from the west, Senator Long, democrat, Louisiana, asserted the country would no longer accept President Roosevelt and called him more unpopular than "Hoover."

Midwest republicans definitely planned the calling of a conference to rehabilitate their party at Springfield, Ill., the second week in June.

Republicans Gather.

New England republicans began gathering in Boston for a meeting tomorrow to rebuild the party organization in the six states east of the Hudson.

Ground Broken for New Church

LYNCH FILIBUSTER HALTS F.D.R. PLANS

Senate Leaders Again Defeated in Attempt To End Deadlock.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(P)—President Roosevelt's five-point program for the remainder of the present congress today sparred democratic leaders to demand higher speed and "better co-operation" to prevent the session from continuing on into late July.

Immediate stumbling blocks appeared, however. The senate remained in the throes of a determined southern filibuster against consideration of the anti-lynching bill. Republican chiefs, joined by a few democrats, clouded the situation further with demands that part of the administration's agenda be scrapped to allow early adjournment.

Senate Floor Prevails.

While Speaker Byrnes was expressing confidence the house could complete action on the president's legislative calendar and adjourn by mid-June, the senate democratic steering committee called a hurried meeting to break the senate deadlock over the anti-lynching bill. It failed, however, to reach a decision.

Southern Democrats Thereupon Held

the session floor the remainder of the day talking against the motion of Senator Costigan, democrat, Colorado, to consider his bill to make lynching a federal crime.

Ranked behind this unsettled control were the controversial bonus bill, already passed by the house, and five measures mentioned by the president in his radio speech last night as the minimum for action at this session—NRA extension, banking, transportation regulation, social security and elimination of unnecessary public utility holding companies.

Two of these five measures have been acted upon, one by each house. The senate has passed a bill placing control over interstate buses and trucks in the Interstate Commerce Commission. The house has approved the social security bill.

Speaker Byrnes said the house of representatives had completed its work on the NRA extension.

Senate leaders were to vote on the extension at tomorrow's sessions.

Senate Floor Prevails.

Former President Hoover, titular head of the G. O. P., declared in a radio address at San Francisco that the life of the nation of America should be the enduring stick by which to "challenge every function and proposal of society and government."

State and national republican committee members from the six states were in session during the day to discuss the future of the NRA and national campaigns in 1936.

New England republicans are faced with the task of trying to oust democ-atic administration from the Hampshire and Vermont were they in both 1932 and 1934.

National committee members will appear on the afternoon program with Professor Malcolm McNair, of Harvard School of Business Administration, and Colonel Roosevelt.

Georgia to Back F. D. R.

From Georgia where General

Eugene Talmadge had criticized the New Deal, Senator George, democrat, Georgia, predicted the people of his state would overwhelmingly endorse

President Roosevelt in 1936.

Talk about a third party movement was not regarded seriously by democrats here, despite the action of the Farmers' Holiday Association. They

pointed to reluctance of the Long, Father Charles E. Coughlin and Upton, N. Y., to support the movement.

At Los Angeles Sinclair, defeated democratic gubernatorial candidate, told his "poor in California" workers it would be simpler to dominate America by controlling the democ-atic party than by attempting to create a third party.

Republican liberals were said by a third party, holding that it would be much of an uphill fight to make victory probable.

nio Camini, 42, of Boston. He was taken to the detective bureau at police headquarters.

them probably fatally, when they erate army.

Policeman's Opponent Identified as Pet Bear

It was "Bunskie" that patrolman

Y. F. Geeslin wrestled with last Friday in the backyard of Gray Andrew, at 1468 Lucile avenue, and the "varmint" was identified as a coati or honey bear by its owner, George L. Andrews.

Mr. Bush yesterday offered to pay in gold of the realm for the goldfish that served as tidbits during "Bunskie's" stroll into the Andrews' backyard.

The bear has been a pet for several years. Mr. Bush declared as the animal followed docilely at the heels of its master.

A dance will follow the dinner.

Crackers and Travelers Rained Out; James To Play Today

Miss Mildred Babe Didrikson, who could throw a javelin, sew a box pleat and cook a cherry pie and also do a few odd athletic chores such as leaping and running faster than any other gal, is the new state golf champion in Texas.

And that is a story which pleases me no little because I have been for some time one of those ardent admirers of the wiry kid from Texas. This new chapter in her life pleases me all the more because it demonstrates once more the sanity of golf and the people who govern it.

The A. A. U., with its usual indefensible attitude, was about to expel Miss Didrikson because she had allowed her picture to appear in an ad. So she turned professional and tried to cash in on her natural athletic ability.

She was, I think, ill-advised but she would not have taken the step had not the old women of the A. A. U. been deliberating on her case. As it was she didn't have such a successful professional career. She was the best javelin thrower among the girls and she could run faster and leap farther. But there were no opponents. And in addition girls who leap and run aren't so interesting anyhow. At least not always.

So the kid turned back to golf and golf says she is an amateur which she is. When she was the sensation of the last Olympic games she was very much in the news and she was quoted as saying a lot of things which some of our more serious minds seemed to resent. One of them was that some day she would become the national women's golf champion.

There was a lot of polite laughing at this because a golf champion does not develop in a week or so. And all Babe Didrikson had done was wallop a few from the tee at one of those driving ranges which flourished the year after the miniature courses folded up so emphatically.

THE TEXAS TITLE.

In winning the Texas state title she won a title which is rather important. She defeated a woman who was something of a veteran and who held the Mexican championship.

The Texas state title is a far cry from the national championship but not so far as one might think. There are not many very good golfers in the feminine amateur field today. At least none of them seems to be making any great progress.

And if the Babe keeps on working at her golf and doesn't get married or start leaping or throwing javelins again, she may win that national title yet. She will, I imagine, fail to go anywhere this year because she will be so new to the game.

It would be quite a story if she were to get there. Winning the Texas state title within a year after going seriously into golf is quite an accomplishment in itself.

And the whole story makes golf and its directors look good. The Babe has been paid to play billiards, basketball, and to pitch for one of those House of David baseball teams. Yet golf welcomes her as an amateur. Which she is. If she isn't an amateur golfer then there isn't one.

OUR CRACKERS RETURN.

Wally French, who used to play football at West Point and who last year was with the Knoxville baseball club, once told me that he thought Atlanta's baseball players became lazy and lost their hustle because they were better paid, treated with more consideration and were given little extra pleasures such as free taxies and the like.

"I'd like to play for Atlanta," he said, "but I imagine if I got over there I'd do just like the rest of them. I'd get lazy and no good."

I have wondered more than a little about that statement because Wally French said it explained why players did well with other clubs but flopped once they put on Atlanta uniforms. It was his idea even the rookies caught the fever.

I have pondered over that for some time and it may be there is some truth in it. Certainly the Atlanta clubs assembled in the past six years have lacked a co-ordinated drive and dash.

No judge would find a guilty person along the alleged murderer's row of the Atlanta club. It is impossible to believe that batting eyes have become blind.

This club can play baseball. Very probably it is much too early to be passing judgment on it. The club has not yet made the circuit. It will be midday before the real possibilities are known.

But meanwhile there have been examples of what furious drive will do. The Chattanooga team, while in possession of only three Class A men outside the pitching staff, went to third place. They did it by trying.

A baseball manager with loafing ball players would be doing himself the owners and the fans a favor by suspending them without pay for the remainder of the season.

SHIRLEY'S CURRENT SUCCESS.

"Mule" Shirley's current success at Chattanooga is a topic which pleases. He was tossed aside by the Lookouts some years ago for breaking training rules. He was cast off by the Nashville club and then Atlanta had him and released him outright.

He was taken back at Chattanooga during an emergency, went into the game and stayed there and last year was made manager. This year his team of youngsters, backed by a real pitching staff, is leading the league in hitting; has completed more double plays than any other team and is hitting the ball in boisterous fashion.

It is a pleasing comeback. And with a little help from Washington he may be a very potent factor in the pennant race. It is, however, one of those stories one likes to tell, the success of "Mule" Shirley managing the ball club and himself.

THOSE MAJOR LEAGUE TIE-UPS.

There is much to be said on each side in the matter of a major league tie-up. In most instances the major league is not vitally interested and does not send down a great deal of help. But when the club is interested in fostering its minor ally then it can do a great deal of harm.

New Orleans, for example, is getting help from Cleveland and Chattanooga receives it from Washington. They do not have to go into the open market for players as do clubs situated as is Atlanta. They can take a look at players, send them back and ask for more without any direct cost.

When, and if, Atlanta has to go into the market for replacements it will be a gamble and a costly one.

LEO DUROCHER'S ACTIONS CAUSE CARDS' BOYCOTT

St. Louis Shortstop Brings Union Ban of Games Following Strike.

ST. LOUIS, April 29.—(AP)—Sad Sam Breeden signed deeply tonight at the latest in the baseball magnate's woes, a union labor boycott directed primarily at Leo Durocher, his peppy shortstop.

Most of the boycott has not yet moved into the turnstile of Sportsman's Park, for President Breeden's World Champion St. Louis Cardinals are in Cincinnati beginning an extensive baseball road trip designed to keep them away from home until May 17. Developments, however, could fasten.

While Breeden signed, Durocher, in Cincinnati, declined to comment on union charges that he had defected efforts of strikers at the Forest City Manufacturing Company, a dress company employing his bride of last September as a designer.

DUROCHER SURPRISED.

Durocher was surprised at the attitude of the Central Trades and Labor Union which voted yesterday to refrain from patronizing Cardinal games while he remained in the lineup. "I have nothing against the union and don't understand why I should be singled out," he explained.

The resolution specified the 10,000 union members who shun the Cardinals until "a proper settlement is made."

Branch Rickey, vice president, was the official spokesman for the baseball club. He said the boycott was "unfortunate."

"I do not believe that Durocher has any personal animosity or organization," the Cardinals' best after-dinner speaker continued.

"The action should certainly not be directed against the Cardinal organization which had no part or control over the incident. The club cannot be held responsible for the reprisal action of players off the field. Cardinal officials will use their influence to clear up the misunderstanding."

GIRL ARRESTED.

The "misunderstanding" arose from actions following the arrest, last February 22, of Dorris Smith, a garment worker. She was charged with disturbing the peace of the Forest City company, where a strike by the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union has continued since last January.

Miss Smith was fined $240 on the basis of Durocher's testimony. He explained he had taken his wife to work with the troupe because Union leaders said today that an apology from Durocher probably would constitute a "proper settlement." He said to the best of his knowledge he had done nothing to apologize for.

Several weeks ago the Ladies' Garment Workers' Union complained in a letter to Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis that Durocher had told them "you are walking the streets for nothing and while you are starving my wife is getting as much in one day as you would in a week."

7 PREP GAMES ON CARD TODAY

Atlanta's prep baseball teams will play seven games this afternoon in two leagues. Big Eight plays four games, with the Boys' High-G. M. A. game. Henry French, field manager of the feature.

In the other Big Eight games, Marist plays at Riverside, Columbus meets Monroe at Monroe and Tech High plays Commercial at Grant park.

Boys' High suffered a heavy blow Sunday when it was announced that Jim Bagby, Jr., the Purples' during the full season, had been suspended and reported to Charlotte, N. C. Monday. Bagby had won six games and lost one for Boys' High.

The Purples are leading the league with six wins and one loss, with Tech High in second place with four wins and one loss.

That night at Riverside scrap at Gainesville should be well worth the while. Marist is battling for runner-up with Riverside slowly moving nearer and nearer the top.

In the North Georgia Intercollegiate conference games, the Marietta-Dekatur game at Dekatur should be the best. Others in the N. G. I. C. are: Russell at Gainesville and S. W. Dekalb at Fulton.

Twenty-four more games are scheduled by this association for this week, in addition to the postponed game which was lost on account of rain and will probably be played Saturday.

Of the other two games, Rich's trimmed Sterchi's, 16 to 8, and the Western Union Auditors took the Grinnells, 8 to 2.

Gomez Shuts Out Senators With Four Hits as Yanks Win, 2-0

BATTLES HARD TO BEAT BURKE IN MOUND DUEL

New York Held to Eight Blows; Combs Gets Three Singles.

NEW YORK, April 29.—(P)—Ver-son (Lefty) Gomez, who had not taken on his turn on the mound in over a week because of a mild attack of the grippe, pitched a fine action today and shut out the Washington Senators with four scattered hits as the New York Yankees won the first game of the series, 2 to 0, for their fifth straight victory.

In accounting for his second triumph of the season, Gomez was forced to give his best all the way, or he wasn't up to it, as he said by Bill Burke, who held the Yanks to eight hits and made them work hard for their two runs.

Alvin Powell was the only Senator to get as far as third base, arriving at that station in the third on his single and Lynn Lary's double.

Red Ruffin and Buddy Myer made the other

Washington hits.

Earl Combs connected with three singles to bring his total to six in the last seven times at bat and drove in the first Yankee run. He sent Bill

Dickey across the plate in the fourth after the Yankee catcher had doubled.

Don Gehrig hit the other three New York runs with a lone fly in the fifth.

Red Ruffin and George Selkirk set the stage for Gehrig's fly by connecting with singles. Lou's hit looked good for a triple, but Powell sprinted about 30 yards to pull down the smash

in deep center.

MEXICO AND U.S. AGREE ON SILVER

"Mutually Satisfactory" Talks Held on American Threat to Peso.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(UP)—The United States and Mexican governments tonight concluded "mutually satisfactory" conversations on the American price-boosting silver policy, but details were closely guarded.

Secretary Morgenthau, in telling reporters of the discussions, he has had with Hugo Lopez, assistant secretary of the Mexican treasury, announced there would be no change to-night in 77.57 cents an ounce price the American treasury is paying for newly mined domestic silver.

With the world price for the metal slumping below this figure, a close watch was kept on the treasury all day for some indication that the American price would be jacked up again. The world price last week reached a high of 81 cents.

Lopez flew here for conference with Morgenthau when the advancing American prices precipitated a monetary crisis in Mexico and banks called in silver loans. Banks there also were closed over the weekend, but generally reopened today.

The Mexican official first talked with Morgenthau last night. Later Lopez said the conversation had been "mutually satisfactory."

The two financial experts met again today, but beyond reiterating satisfaction with the results, neither would comment.

Lopez is now returning to Mexico where today hundreds lined up in front of the Bank of Mexico, in Mexico, D. F., and obtained bronze change for paper money. The shortage of silver coin there was described as acute.

Nashville's First Iris Festival Lures Atlantans to Tennessee City

By Sally Forth.

TODAY marks the departure of Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Mrs. William P. Hill and Mrs. James E. Hickey for Nashville, Tenn. The congenial trio will motor there bent upon viewing the first iris festival staged in the "Iris City" this week. They will visit Governor and Mrs. Hill McAllister at the executive mansion, the first lady of Tennessee and Mrs. Maddox being lifelong and devoted friends. They grew up together in Nashville, the city in which they were born. A telegram received yesterday by Mrs. Maddox from Tennessee's chief executive and Mrs. McAllister told of a dinner party to be given in their home this evening at the mansion.

Millions of irises have been used in public and private plantings. The sidewalks and roadsides are ablaze with these colorful flowers which are rearing their pretty heads to greet visitors. Back in 1931, the Nashville Iris Association was formed to foster the planting and cultivation of irises, to make real the dream of Nashville as the "Iris City." Chancellor James H. Kirkland, of Vanderbilt University, is an iris fancier and the grounds surrounding the university are literally ablaze with the flowers.

A tea will be given in Cheekwood Gardens, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Cheek, and the "Pageant of Iris" will be staged at the Parthenon in Centennial park by Ward-Belmont College students. Every church in Nashville was decorated with irises last Sunday. Show windows and stores will be adorned with these flowers all this week.

Mrs. John E. Brickman and Mrs. Arnold Hepp, American Iris Society members, leave tomorrow for Nashville to attend the national convention to convene for the first time below the Mason and Dixon line. Accompanying them will be Mrs. Arthur Harris, Mrs. L. C. Morris, Mrs. J. R. Bachman and Miss May Hudson. They are ardent iris admirers, and will stop at the Hermitage hotel, where the opening session of the American Iris Society takes place Thursday.

A FLOOD of bon voyage messages greeted Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Haas when they went aboard the Italian liner, "Rex," Saturday. Letters, telegrams, flowers, steamer packages and other tokens expressing wishes for a safe and happy journey awaited the Atlantans in their staterooms. Standing on deck waving goodbye to friends on the docks. Mr. and Mrs. Haas were all smiles as the palatial ship nosed out of New York harbor.

The steamer's first port of call will be Gibraltar, where with fellow passengers the Atlantans will view the "big rock." Mr. and Mrs. Haas will disembark at Naples on May 4. They will spend several days at the picturesque Italian port city. The next two weeks they will spend motoring through Italy. A highlight of their motor trip will be the drive through the Tuscan hills from Rome to Florence. They will return to the Riviera for a week's visit to Nice and Monte Carlo before going aboard the Rex for the return sail.

Included in the social courtesies to be extended the delegates today is a tea which takes place at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harris. Prior to the tea the visitors will enjoy a motor trip to the hotel in the city.

Mrs. Henry Bause, chairman of the convention committee and other members of her committee include Mesdames Ben Massell, Jack Weinstein, Leo Strauss and Ben Fox. The afternoon program was given over to a symposium on "The Synagogue and the Home." Mrs. J. Bertram of Anniston, Ala., discussed "The Synagogue in Community Life," and Mrs. Reuben Franklin took as her subject "The Synagogue in Its Relation to the Child in Home and School."

Included in the social courtesies to be extended the delegates today is a tea which takes place at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harris. Prior to the tea the visitors will enjoy a motor trip to the hotel in the city.

Mrs. Martin, however, is a valued member of the Iris Garden Club, and is an authority on varieties of flowers, especially the rose, the "Souvenir" being one of her favorites. Now she wonders what's in a name.

One day recently Mr. and Mrs. Martin motored to Atlanta from their home at the Tate Mountain Estates for a few days' stay at one of the leading hotels. One evening Mr. Martin stopped at the desk for his mail and Mrs. Martin stopped to admire a vase of roses which added a note of floral beauty to the hotel lobby.

"How beautiful!" exclaimed Mrs. Martin; "they are souvenirs, aren't they?" "No, Mrs. Martin; I'm sorry, but they aren't," replied the clerk. "We have them put here for decoration only."

"No, Mrs. Martin; I'm sorry, but they aren't," replied the clerk. "We have them put here for decoration only."

The Atlantans will hold open forum this evening at 8 o'clock at 88 Ellis street, N. E.

The mission study committee of the Peacock Road Methodist Missionary Society will present the book, "Orientals in American Life" at the church from 10 to 1 o'clock.

The Young Mothers' Psychology class meets with Mrs. Julian Davis at 308 Church street, Decatur.

Business Women's Circle of the Auxiliary-Guild of All Saints church meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parish house.

Atlanta district W. M. S. of the M. E. Church, South, will hold the annual meeting at 10 o'clock at the Glenn Memorial church.

Slaton P.T.A. will meet at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.
